

UX, Product, Service Designer

NOEMI

FRISCHKNECHT

I am a curious soul testing and iterating life since 1992 and since 2022 also professionally. Being a committed life long learner I became a holistic user-centric designer through a few detours.

What I touch, I touch with a reason and a purpose and I love to express my passion in the details for the affected and attentive ones to appreciate.

I thrive in diverse, creative and inspiring teams, that are compassionate, ambitious and striving for impact and change, but that don't hold back their laughs.

experience.

2022 - today

code excursion (swiss NGO)

volunteer, designer, frontend developer

Code Excursion aims to inspire more women to enter the tech industry through teaching them how to code.

I help out as a ux designer, code coach and allrounder with the course, community, website, product and marketing. As an alumni freelancer I've been realizing client web design & development projects.

2022 - 6 months, part-time

slove.io (swedish startup, pre-funding stage)

ux / ui internship

I was the owner of the website, collaborated closely with the other frontend developer and marketing interns and supported designing the UX of the app, bounced ideas with the founder and advised from the UX Design perspective.

education.

2022 - today

hyper island, sweden
ux design

2021

coding bootcamp
html, css, javascript (react)

2014-2017

university of applied sciences zurich bsc facility management specialisation in real estate management skills.

user research / testing
figma - prototyping, wireframing design thinking
future design
facilitation / presentation communication
onsite & remote collaboration
project management
stakeholder management
webdesign, development & deployment
html, css, javascript (react)
wordpress, shopify

2019- 2021

canton zurich

facility manager - strategy

Supporting and overseeing the establishment of concepts and guidelines for sustainable and efficient property, workplace and facility management as well as responding to userneeds throughout a very diverse real estate portfolio.

2017- 2019

migros zurich

facility manager

My core functions were to represent operational user needs already from the first phase of construction projects and support in the optimization of processes and reorganisation within the technical maintenance departement.

FOR VISUALS
CLICK HERE